Product designations:

EMIKO® EM-1®

We hereby assure that the product listed above and manufactured by us

- a) is itself neither genetically modified organisms (GMO), nor does it contain such,
- b) and that this product was neither manufactured from nor by means of a GMO. In addition, we have no information which could indicate that these statements are incorrect.
- c) For all the constituents contained in the above product, we have written statements of assurance from the manufacturers with the same content. These statements form part of our documentation, and have neither expired nor been recalled.

The product listed above is therefore not subject to labelling in terms of the regulations EC no. 1829/2003 relating to genetically modified food and feed, and regulation EC no. 1830/2003 relating to traceability of food and feed products produced from genetically modified organisms.

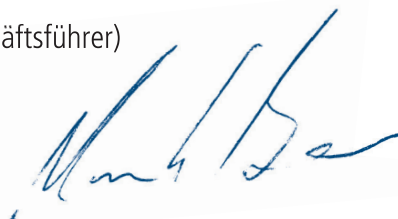

In addition, the product complies with the ban on genetic engineering of the EC Eco Regulation no. 834/2007.

We undertake to inform our customers immediately of any change or revocation, as soon as deviations from the facts of this declaration or from the declarations of our suppliers arise.

This declaration of assurance is valid from 10 January 2018 and expires on 09 January 2019.
